The Regal, Oxford. Sunday 7th November 2010. Span Training and Development hosted it's annual awards evening, an event held to recognise outstanding achievement amongst learners and salon owners who work with the Oxfordshire based training company.

The glamorous black tie gala evening was attended by over 300 Salon owners and learners from 5 different counties. The atmosphere, as always was fun and lively. This year Span invited leading hairdressing business expert David Drew to host the ceremony and present the category awards.

David, a member of the Fellowship of British Hairdressing, with over 35 years of industry experience has worked for companies such as Vidal Sassoon & Jingles International. As a leading business consultant with such a great track record in the hairdressing business, David was well placed to deliver a keynote speech at the awards highlighting the principles of business success in hairdressing. David explained; "There are more hairdressers on the high street than any other type of business. What will set your business apart is motivating your staff, training them well to provide a sense of occasion for the client."
